* FINISHES - In case of doubts do not hesitate to ask Steven to come with his showroom models to show you the differences

	BS01: BRASS: polished solid brass - a glossy finish
	BS02: Carefully aged polished brass finish (matt): aged to create the look of an used object which carries traces of time.
	BZ01: BRONZE: solid brass with a light brown patina, This patina has an elegant light brown color and makes the object shine a bit more.
	BZ02: BRONZE: solid brass with a dark brown patina, which becomes more visible when sunlight falls on it. Can be glossy when recently applied, but it becomes more matt over time.
	BZ03: Brass with very dark patina, looks like a dark grey gun metal. To give it more depth it is finished with a layer of wax. It's more matt.
	AL01: Aluminium polished to a glossy finish
* TEXTURES
These are all done by hand, and therefore always a bit different
	S01: polished surface
	H01: Hammered by hand on the side , not all sides
	H02: Hammered by hand on ALL sides
	C01: Carved, the deep carvings create a rough surface which is very tactile and in patinated objects it creates a clear difference in color between the deeper darker parts and the lighter surface. Looks like deep hammering.
	C02: Carved on THE side , deep elongated carvings create a striped pattern which resembles the bark of a tree
	C03: Carved on ALL sides , deep elongated carvings create a striped pattern which resembles the bark of a tree
